PRESS RELEASE

Cadets go to Ground

Cadets from 1220 (March) Squadron swapped the comfort of HQ for the training ground at RAF Barnham recently.

Over an intensive weekend the cadets aged from 13 to 17 learned much about field-craft - surviving in "hostile" territory including making their own shelters, cooking their own food and staying hidden! Throughout the training they took part in several exercises designed to test their navigation skills, radio skills, team working and ability to stay concealed both in daylight and at night. They had to recover lost crew and avoid detection by enemy forces.

March squadron is now preparing for its next intake night. For further information log onto the website at www.1220atc.org.uk or Tel: 01354 651788.

Address: 1220 (March) Squadron Air Training Corps, Gas Road, March. PE15 9LU.

Parade nights: Tuesday and Friday between 1900-2130hrs.
