PRESS RELEASE

Cadets celebrate a successful year

March cadets celebrated another successful year at their annual Dining in Night. 44 cadets, staff and Civilian Committee members sat down to a formal dinner at the Conservative Club.

As well as dining in all the new cadets, staff and committee members it was a chance to formally dine out and thank those were departing for pastures new.

Commanding Officer Kirsty Burnham reflected on a very successful year where the squadron had gained awards for community work and well as sports. Cadets had individually gained awards in both sport and modelling with some going on to represent the Wing. More cadets than ever attended both Easter Camp, Annual Camp, Llanbedr and Windermere adventure training establishments and two cadets tasted life in Cyprus.

Several cadets attained bronze Duke of Edinburgh's Award and one gained silver, with over half the squadron working towards this award.
