PRESS RELEASE

MARCH CADETS UP IN THE AIR

Cadets from 1220 (March) Squadron spent a large part of the weekend with their heads in clouds, or at least in the clear blue skies.

On Saturday 12 cadets were able to sample powered flight as they took to the air in the RAF's primary trainer, the Grob Tutor. Flying out of RAF Wyton the cadets, some of whom hadn't flown before, had a fantastic time taking control and learning all about what it is to be a pilot as well as admiring the view from 2000 feet.

On Sunday four cadets made their way to the Volunteer Gliding Squadron at Watton for a day soaring with the birds. Despite early morning fog the day was ideal for gliding and the cadets enjoyed the thrill of the winch-launched takeoff on board the Grob Viking as well as the silence of soaring above the Norfolk countryside.

For further information go to the website at www.1220atc.org.uk or Tel: 01354 651788.

Address: 1220 (March) Squadron Air Training Corps, Gas Road, March. PE15 9LU.

Parade nights: Tuesday and Friday between 1900-2130hrs.
