Cadets Mark Battle of Britain

Newmarket Squadron Air Cadets and Band joined the Parishioners and the Mayor of Newmarket, Michael Jeffereys, in a memorial service. This marked the 70th anniversary of the Battle of Britain at St Mary's Parish Church in Newmarket. The cadets assisted in the service collection as well as parading the new Squadron Band. This was an excellent opportunity to remember the lives lost during the World Wars and in more recent conflicts. Flying Officer Keith Hicks (Officer in Charge) said "The cadets were a credit to themselves and the Air Training Corps on this important day."
